Unit: Irrigation Development
Location: Saskatoon or Moose Jaw, SK
Annual Wage: $111,132 to $138,924 (MC8)
Competition Number: WSA-31-2026/27

Are you an experienced leader with a passion for driving projects, fostering stakeholder relationships, and supporting sustainable growth? Join our team as Manager, Irrigation Development and help shape the future of irrigation development in Saskatchewan.

This position manages a multidisciplinary team responsible for advancing irrigation development projects, engineering and technical analysis, stakeholder engagement, client service and process improvements that support sustainable irrigation expansion in Saskatchewan.

The position provides leadership to project managers and engineers, coordinates internal and external partners and ensures irrigation development work is technically sound, strategically aligned and delivered in a transparent, client-focused manner.

You will also Coordinate stakeholder engagement and client service activities by building collaborative relationships with producers, irrigation districts, municipalities, Indigenous communities, consultants, industry representatives and government partners.

This is an exciting opportunity to shape the future of irrigation development in Saskatchewan through strategic leadership, collaboration, and sustainable growth.

The candidate will have a degree in Engineering or a closely related discipline and 6 or more years of progressively more responsible leadership experience. Eligibility for registration as a Professional Engineer with APEGS is strongly preferred and a Project Management Professional (PMP) designation is considered an asset.

This role is subject to a satisfactory criminal record check.
